

Element Fender

TJUE Element Fenders are molded buckling column legs with embedded mounting plates. Ideal for restricted spaces, they are easy to install and need little maintenance.

TJUE systems combine one or more pairs of elements mounted horizontally and/or vertically behind a UHMW-PE facing or a steel panel. TJUE Elements can be used in many more configurations than traditional V-fenders, or even within specialist engineered fender systems.