

Hydropneumatic Fenders

TekMarine TJHF Hydropneumatic Fenders are designed for vessels, such as submarines, that make contact with fenders below the waterline.

Fenders are part-filled with water and ballasted to float vertically. Performance can be tuned by changing the water-to-air ratio and initial pressure.

TekMarine strongly recommends that a detailed study is carried out for each application.